

LION TAMER IS ARRESTED HERE; GETS A RELEASE

Circus Men Held Pending Investigation Go Their Way After Questioning

Three men were arrested and held for investigation yesterday by city and county officers when Red Ball employees claimed two of the men had tried to short change them.

One of the spokesmen for the circus claimed to be a lion tamer, former jockey and concessionman from childhood not to mention a gentleman. However the accusers could not give any proof of actual short changing and there was nothing possible to charge them with other than they were released after two hours detention.

After they had left the Red Ball one of the employees followed one of them and he went through the lunchbox and out the back door without a word of explanation. He then ran down to the Warren oil station on Haynes avenue and got in a car with the other two.

Constable Joe Barton saw the man get in the car and thought the car was one reported stolen here and arrested the three and took them to the police station. Officer Ed Davidson got Deputy Ray Brunson and they met Constable Barton with the three men. Barton was about to release the men for he had taken them to the owner and found that it was not the stolen car they were looking for.

The trio said they were going to Lancaster, Mo., to get some "cats" (tigers, in other words) and join a "show" at Princeton, Mo. Lacking any concrete evidence they were released and went their way.

Simmons-Herron Reunion Is Held

The second reunion of the Herron and Simmons families was held at the park north of Albia, Sunday, July 17.

The forenoon was spent visiting and getting acquainted as it was the first time many of them had met.

A bountiful dinner was enjoyed by all at noon. A short program was given in the afternoon. The readings given by Mary Edna Van Tress, Melcher, were greatly enjoyed by all present.

The remainder of the day was spent in playing games and visiting. Everyone reported a very good day. The youngsters made good use of the park swings.

Officers for the coming year are: E. Glenn Herron, Charlton, Pres., and Mary Edna Van Tress, Melcher, Secretary.

Next year will be held in the same place, the third Sunday in July. Those present were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Herron, of Lacona, E. Glenn Herron, Charlton, and Mrs. Arch Herron, and son James of Moulton, Mrs. Gold Rivers, Colleen, and Harold Rivers, Melcher, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Smith, and Maxine, Ottumwa, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins, Marjorie Hawkins, Lawrence and Margaret, Olive Anna Harward, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Van Tress, Ruth and Mary Edna, Melcher, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald, and baby; Mr. and Mrs. Gale Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Edna Simmons, Mrs. Geo. 101 Ranch Will Not Be Sold To Racketeer Mob

Marland, Okla., July 19 (UP)—Col. Zach I. Miller, sole survivor of the famous Miller brothers, is not negotiating with Al Capone or other hoodlums for sale of his 101 ranch.

Neither does he plan to revitalize with gangland spoils his famed "Wild West" show which failed at Washington more than a year ago.

"Unofficial agents" of the ranchman were quoted as saying Colonel Miller planned to visit the de-throned Chicago gang chief at the Atlanta penitentiary tomorrow to arrange a sale of the ranch, Louis (Diamond Jack) Alterie, one of Capone's henchmen, was reported as the go-between in a deal for the ranch sale and to give rebirth to the 101 ranch circus.

Col. Miller returned to his ranch from Tonkawa early today and immediately announced there was "not a speck of truth to these reports."

STRIKERS STOP TEXTILE MILLS FROM OPERATING

Wrecking Crew Cuts Power Lines, and Take Over Entire Towns In Path

Thomasville, N. C., July 19 (UP)—An apparently leaderless "wrecking crew" of several hundred striking textile workers from High Point, where 3,000 went out in protest against a 25 per cent wage cut Monday, came here today and forced the shutdown of all mills here.

It was the noonday climax of a hectic 24-hours in which similar tactics were employed in several other textile cities nearby where not only mills were shut down, but workers were forced out of such places as restaurants.

Their purpose accomplished here the men moved to Lexington, where they intended, it was understood, to close down every industry in the city. Cutting of power lines was one method used by the "wrecking crew."

Reports from High Point said that approximately 6,000 mill workers either on strike or forced out by the strikers, had been augmented by some 2,000 unemployed. They roamed the streets as if on a holiday, and had things pretty much their own way. Shouts rang through High Point streets, but no major violence was reported.

F. H. Clark, foreman of the Molores-Holark mill, High Point, was held today in an undetermined jail on charges of throwing acid into the face of Robert Reece, a striker at his mill.

Reece was reported seriously injured. Clark was taken from High Point to prevent possible violence. Meanwhile, another foreman in a hosiery mill at High Point sought early this afternoon to effect a conference with hosiery manufacturers in an effort to settle the wage controversy.

Hi Ho, the Pup Given Funeral

Funeral services for Hi Ho, Eugene Houser's Fox terrier pup, were held this morning at the rear of the Houser Produce Co. store on East State street at 9 o'clock with Eugene acting as sexton and chief officiator.

Silent tears fell as he dug the grave and put Hi Ho to rest. The grave is surrounded by pieces of limestone. At the head is a placard bearing the following: "Hi Ho, Born May 16, Died July 18. Two months 18 days." Milk bottle vases containing petunias and zinnias were placed on the grave.

Hi Ho came to an untimely death yesterday morning while playing with his master. He ran out into the street and was killed by a passing auto.

Wet Town Dry Scrap Still On

Alexandria Bay, N. Y., July 19.—(UP) Local authorities have set Friday night as the deadline for court appearance of a prohibition agent involved in dry raid disorders here with an ultimatum to produce the defendant or "he will be taken by force."

Non-appearance of Burke Bourne, man at a scheduled hearing last night brought the sharp demand from Harold Donaldson, district attorney. Bourne was charged with reckless driving after his motor car ran down two persons after a series of dry raids here.

The accident caused a street fight between agents and townspeople. Added to the demand for Bourne—still see this thing thru to the end," Donaldson declared. "Bourne will be taken by force if necessary."

Donaldson declared Bourne had been paroled in custody of U. S. Marshall Larnarsh of Watertown, for appearance here at 8 p. m. last night. The district attorney was indignant today, vowing to bring the agent before a court.

He said this thing thru to the end," Donaldson declared. "Bourne will be taken by force if necessary."

FOUR SCORE AND TEN IS PASSED BY LOCAL WOMAN

Mrs. George Gladfelder Celebrates Her Ninetieth Birthday, Remembers War

Mrs. George Gladfelder passed her 90th birthday quietly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Phillips, north of Centerville, July 15th.

Mrs. Gladfelder was an early pioneer of Iowa. While sitting on the porch she related an interesting story concerning her early life. She has a very good memory, which is unusual at her age, considering the extremely bad sickness she had the past winter and spring.

Tamsey, as she is familiarly called, was born in Van Buren county near Bonaparte, in 1842. She was the youngest of nine children. In the spring of '49 she came to this county with her parents, Martha and Edward Callen, who took a government claim two miles south of Moravia, a part of which is now occupied by Dick Wilson. She related how they moved here by driving three or four yoke of oxen, and one wagon drawn by horses. When asked if she remembered when they came to Appanoose she replied, "Oh, yes." She said that she remembered the Civil war well, as she and Mr. Gladfelder were married April 7, 1861.

Mr. Gladfelder entered the Union ranks in September, 1862.

Three children were born to them, two of whom are now living, Harry Gladfelder, of Des Moines, who was unable to be with his mother on her birthday but sent her greetings, and Mrs. C. C. Phillips, with whom she has made her home since 1921, the year following the death of Mr. Gladfelder in Centerville.

Mrs. Gladfelder is the oldest of four living generations, having two grandsons, Marshall and George Phillips, who with their children, Doris Jean of Centerville, and George C. Jr., of Pulaski, Tenn., completes the fourth generation.

Mrs. Gladfelder was able to enjoy a chicken dinner at the table with the family Monday, but requires care, as she is not able to get about the house alone.

Rathbun to Play Here Next Sunday

Mose Wilson, manager of the Centerville Legion team today announced that the same team has been scheduled with Rathbun here at the Soy Bean diamond and next Sunday the Mystic Midgits will come here for a game at 2:30 at the Soy Bean ball park.

The Centerville Legion team is composed of a picked aggregation from the four teams sponsored here earlier this summer by the Ray C. Walden post, Kiwanis, Elks and Association of Commerce. The boys defeated Mystic's Legion team for the county championship and last week lost to Ottumwa in the fifth district junior baseball tournament.

No admission is charged for either game.
